Sneaking Away from the Witch's Army Game

The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe

Chapter 14

This game is played exactly the same as Red Light, Green Light, except that you are tying in the theme of the need to run away from the evil Witch's army before tragedy occurs.

There will be a leader who turns their back to the rest of the class. But they aren't going to yell anything out to warn the other students. The students, as they are running, just need to keep their eye on the person they are running towards. As that person turns around, if he/she sees anybody still running, they must go back to the beginning. Everybody else gets to stay. Once the person turns around again, they start running.

This goes on until the first person makes it to the person that is "it." The winner then gets to be "it."
